Essential innovations for natural pet care

A common problem for pets:

The skin of animals is colonised by microorganisms. Small injuries or irritations of the paws allow microorganisms to enter, potentially resulting in infections and inflammations. Pododermatitis, the inflammation of the interdigital skin in between the toes and footpads, is a very common canine skin condition and can become painful and even debilitating to your pet.

A simple and efficient solution:

The soft PawCare compounds gently remove dirt, germs and harmful particles, soothe infections and inflammations and provide preventive care. The gentle treatment significantly decreases Malassezia yeast and bacterial loads and supports the healing process of the skin. Our natural and innovative products increase the well-being of your four-legged friend and the general hygiene in your household.

Healthy and resilient paws are a prerequisite for your dog's vigorous vitality. During movement, the paws spread for optimal grip, allowing harmful foreign particles to enter in between the digital pads. The exposure to changing weather conditions and different seasonal challenges further increases the risk of irritations, minor injuries and infections. This mostly goes unnoticed until becoming a real problem, causing discomfort, pain and even affecting the normal movement of your pet.

How it works

1

Take PawCare out of the resealable zip bag.
(Tip: First use a towel to clean the paws if they are very dirty or wet)

2

Gently press the paw into the compound for 2-3 seconds. Dirt and other harmful particles in between the pads are absorbed and the paws are naturally cared for.

3

Repeat the action on all paws as needed.

4

Put PawCare back into the zip bag after use and reseal properly until the next application. PawCare can be re-used for one week after first opening the zip bag. Dispose of in household waste thereafter.

EyeCare 150ml Tube
Item no. 46425

Clear Shiny Eyes are a sign of your pet's health and well-being. The sensitive pet eyes need gentle care: wind, dust, debris and loose hair cause tearing. The resulting discharge combined with dirt and bacteria accumulates in the corners of the eye and can lead to infections that can cause discomfort and pain. Another common reaction of sensitive pet eyes is the development of tear stains which is especially unesthetic on light fur.

How it works

As required, gently dab a small amount of EyeCare on the eyelid and in the corner of the eye for 2-3 seconds. The soft compound absorbs any discharge as well as dirt and harmful particles. Repeat as necessary.

After use, dispose of the used EyeCare portion in household waste.

If discharge recurs repeatedly, the collected material is yellowish or greenish, and/or the surrounding tissues are red and irritated, please consult a veterinarian.
